

Call for papers
The 5th Winter Conference
The Japanese Association for Migration Studies
Deadline Extended to Oct. 16, 2020

In order to increase the academic interchange between association members, the Japanese Association for Migration Studies will be holding its 5th Winter Conference on Sunday, December 20, 2020 online. The presentation format will be the same as the open-subject style used at the association's Annual Conference. The Winter Conference is particularly designed as an opportunity for younger association members to present their research themes but is not limited to such members. It provides an intimate setting in which to deepen one's research.

If you would like to present a paper, please send an e-mail with the application form to the following application site by Friday, October 16, 2020. The deadline was extended. However, presenters must be association members, so if you are not a member, please apply for membership in advance. Current members should confirm whether they have paid the membership fee for 2020.

Conference Details

Date: Sunday, December 20, 2020

This conference will be online via Zoom. Details will be announced later.

Format: Individual presentation (25 minutes), followed by Q&A (15 minutes)

* Time allowance for Q&A is subject to change, depending on the program.

Application information (no specific format needed):

- (1) Applicant's name, affiliation and e-mail address
- (2) Presentation title
- (3) Language used for the presentation (Japanese or English only)
- (4) 300-350 word proposal

Please send the application by email to jamswinter2020@gmail.com

Application deadline: Friday, October 16, 2020

If you have any questions regarding payment of membership fees, please contact the association secretariat at imingakkai@gmail.com